

Audience Prize

What is the Audience Prize?

The Audience Prize is an opportunity for webcast viewers to win a ski that is being provided by two major ski brands, Connelly and D3.

Where do I play?

www.waterskibroadcasting.com/audience-prize

When does the Audience Prize open and close?

The Audience prize opens the week prior to the start of the event and closes before the second round.

How do I win and what happens if someone else guessed the same podium?

In order to win the Audience Prize you need to correctly predict the top three finishes in the Women or Men category. If someone else predicts the same podium as you, the winner will be the person who guessed the right score or will be the closest to it. If a ties still persist with multiple people guessing the right podium and the right winning score, the software will do a random draw and pick out a name.

What happens when skiers tie for the win?

The score that will be taken into account for the audience prize will be the score that was set in the tie break.

When do we know who is the winner of the audience prize?

As soon as the final is done we will announce the winner on the current webcast as well as posting it on the TWBC Website under the "Audience Prize" page.

What do I have to do if I win?

TWBC will reach out to the winner. If the winner doesn't response in the following 72 hours from the moment the email has been sent out, the next closest submission will win.